

TEAM COACH ROLE DESCRIPTION

Purpose:

The Team Coach's role is to ensure the participation of all team members through encouraging individual players' strengths, strategic techniques and enhancing player skills.

Responsible To:

The Team Coach is directly responsible to the Executive Committee.

Responsibilities & Duties

The Team Coach is expected to:

- Attend trials in February 2012 (to be held in Auckland) to select your team
- Hold and facilitate at least 2 training camps prior to Trans-Tasman Series for team members;
- Provide continuous strategic and practical skills training to develop individual player skills and strengths;
- Encourage full participation by each team member and encourage team cohesion;
- Encourage positive communication between team members and game officials;
- Communicate effectively with the Executive as to team requirements;
- Attend all games and tournaments;
- Take responsibility for up-skilling their own coaching ability on a regular basis.
- The position is for a 2 year period 2012/2013 which will include 2012 Trans-Tasman Series to be held in Auckland in early October and 2013 Tri-Series International in South Africa in September/October

Knowledge & Skills

Ideally the Team Coach is someone who:

- Can communicate effectively;
- Is well organised;
- Can pre-plan effectively for training, games & tournaments;
- Can promote collaboration of team members;
- Has a sound knowledge of coaching;
- Is self motivated and shows initiative regarding professional development and up-skilling, and;
- Will assist the Executive Committee with team selections at trials.

All coaching positions require the successful applicant to pay for their own travel and accommodation (however, the Executive does try hard to obtain funding to bring the cost down).

Successful coaches must supply a brief outline of their training calendar for the year by the end of January 2012.

All coaches must sign a Code of Conduct and are answerable to the NZMNA Executive.
